

Lecture: Producing A Show-Worthy Quilt

Presented by: Iris Lorenz-Fife

Iris Lorenz Fife began her quilting career with PPQG's "Year 2000 Challenge." She had learned dressmaking at her mother's knee and had won prizes for her wearable art, but she says "I really had no idea what made a quilt a quilt with that first landscape "20,000 Years Before 2000."

Outside of PPQG she's known as a music and art reviewer, draws regularly and paints occasionally.

Iris is a Sundowner - true to her Australian heritage she settled (in Annapolis) where "the sun goes down each night at the edge of the earth."

At PPQG's February meeting, Iris will be sharing her knowledge of fabric, thread, and The Iron in a lecture on producing a show-worthy quilt.
