20TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

I was very, very sorry to miss Jennifer Sampou's class and lecture in March. My husband and I were in Scottsdale, Arizona for Giants spring training. Some of you may know that we are big baseball fans. Unfortunately, this trip fell on the third weekend of March. But we had a great time. It is SO nice and warm/hot in Scottsdale. That part was very enjoyable. And it was fun to see a few baseball games. I got a few autographs and a few photos with some of the Giants players, which was a huge turn-on for me.

My husband and I like to take long road trips together, so we didn't fly to Arizona, we drove. We listened to Audio Books, and I got a lot of hand sewing done in the car. When we're on long stretches like Highway 5, I can do handwork. Highway 1 is another story altogether! So I worked on my challenge entry. I hand stitched the binding on my President's quilt. It's only taken me five years to complete it! I also did some crocheting, and sewed some Christmas ornaments for our Guild to sell.

So, at least my heart was in the right place (quilting), even if I wasn't. And I heard that Jennifer's class and lecture went really well. I can't wait to hear some of the details from her visit.

This is a photo of me with Hunter Strickland, a Giants relief pitcher. He's so cute.

FUND RAISING: ART IN THE REDWOODS FESTIVAL OF TREES

Now that your Challenge item is finished (or almost finished), think about what you can make for the Art in the Redwood and Festival of Trees sales. Small quilts, pot holders, tree ornaments, whatever strikes your fancy. Gail Spencer and Dee Goodrich turned in some items at the March Guild meeting. (I don't think Dee sleeps! She is always so productive!!) And Jan Carter mentioned some items she has completed. We will be glad to accept anything you have finished at the next guild meeting, April 15. Thank you again, for your support. ~Judy Riddle

April 15 – April Sproule Lecture

April Sproule's workshops still has room for more sign-ups!

Both classes address the art of Stenciling on fabric and on garments (Upcycling).

Each class is a stand-alone so they are priced individually and as a combination: $65 for each class or $100 for both classes. Prices are stepped for levels of membership in PPQG and/or GAC. There is a materials list and a $20 materials fee. If you take both classes $20 materials fee is charged once. April is supplying paints and one stencil. Look on our website for details.

Here's a suggestion for the clothing class..... if you do not have a piece of your clothing that you want to use, go to Good Buy Clothes or Pay 'n Take and look for a plain blouse/shirt or jacket that might need sprucing up.

May 18 & 19 - Youngmin Lee - Bojagi class

May 20 – Youngmin Lee - Bojagi lecture

Korean-born artist Youngmin Lee holds a master's degree in fashion design and a bachelor's degree in clothing and textiles. She has presented numerous workshops, classes and demonstrations on Korean arts and crafts around the Bay Area.

Bojagi (Wrapping Cloths) is perhaps the most unique form of Korean textile art. It is also strikingly contemporary: the designs and colors of Bojagi remind one of the works of some modern abstract artists. Indeed, the Bojagi can be described as a true form of abstract expressionism. Bojagi are Korean textiles which are pieced together from small scraps of cloth.

Look at her website for more details.

Youngmin Lee visited Gualala Arts a week ago and was impressed with the lighting in the upstairs gallery. I checked with Youngmin and sewing machines are not needed.

This technique is mostly hand sewing. So the workshop will be held in the upstairs gallery/library room. A full class of 20 would still have enough individual workroom. The GAC office is now ready to accept your sign up.
